SIMON TODD

A D<sup>sus2/A</sup>
It's never enough; I wish it meant more
A F#m C#m D
I wish I had dreams in colours bright that I adored
A D<sup>sus2/A</sup>
You wish I had sense, took it all on the chin
A F#m C#m E
I bet that you wish that I had a door to let you in
Bm D A
But I walked away halfway through the show
Bm C#m D E E<sup>sus4</sup>
And you? Oh you, you let me go

A F#m A
We blunder in, we stumble blind
F#m D
And time dictates we have no time
Dm A
Left wondering, wet behind the ears
F#m A
There is no love left to declare
F#m
So we despise and plot
D Dm A
And stare despondent, wet behind the ears
E<sup>sus4</sup> E A
And grey before our years

A D<sup>sus2/A</sup>
The walls that I build, the bridges I burn
A F#m C#m D
I wish that I'd even roll the dice when it's my turn
A D<sup>sus2/A</sup>
So all that I own are the things that I steal
A F#m C#m D
Without even a care or thought of how it makes you feel
Bm D A
Now my heart's like a wound; and it hurts me so
Bm C#m D E E<sup>sus4</sup>
That you, oh you, you don't even know

And stare despondent, wet behind the ears
And grey before our years

And I miss your strength and the light in your eyes
Bm D A
But the light you held for me, it faded and died
